

GLASGOW YOUTH FILM FESTIVAL POP UP CINEMA

'Pidgin Perfect project in collaboration with the Glasgow Film Festival and Glasgow City Council'

The dramatic transformation of the redundant stalled space site into an inspiring and engaging performance theatre for one night only brought a new energy and audience, 150 people, to the site, changing the public perception of the purpose and potential uses of the site.

Between January 2013 and July 2014 Pidgin Perfect will carry out a series of temporary live projects to engage the public with stalled spaces in an effort to get them thinking differently about how these spaces could be used in the future.

The first of these live projects was delivered in collaboration with the 2013 Glasgow Youth Film Festival (GYFF) and the 2013 Glasgow Film Festival (GFF) and took place on the very wet and cold evening of February 13th.

Pidgin Perfect collaborated with GYFF to produce a 'pop up cinema' on a site located on the embankment of the River Clyde as part of the 2013 GYFF programme, working with the GYFF Youth Team to co-ordinate and deliver small elements of project.

The key aim of the project was to produce an interactive screening of 'Girl Walk // All Day', a 90 minute short film music video set in New York City.

To do this, Pidgin Perfect worked with three dance organisations based in Glasgow. Working with Dance House to produce a flash mob like 'Dance Walk' which danced its way through the city from the Glasgow Film Theatre to the pop up cinema site gathering an public audience along the way and working with Dance HQ and 1 Blud Crew to choreograph an interactive dance routine to accompany the energy of Girl Walk // All Day and encourage audience participation.
